

Questions V.1

Have you heard of child sexual abuse?

What do you know about it?

Where is your child most vulnerable?

Who would you trust your child with?

Have you taught your child body safety rules? If yes, what kind of rules have you laid down?

Do you think this is necessary or unnecessary?

If you have avoided talking to your child about body safety rules, what were/are your apprehensions?

Are you more comfortable with your child's school handling the subject of body safety?

Do you have nick names for private parts when in conversation with your child? Or do you use the appropriate nomenclature?